A pumpkin grew to weigh 250 pounds a Newburg, Mass., by being fed on milk One of the roots was allowed to rest in a basin of milk, and it consumed a pint of the liquid each day. It strikes us as rather an expensive way to raise pumpkins.

On a spot in Kansas, which only a month ago was a barren prairie, 34 houses are now in the course of erection, railroad connections are being made and other preparations under way for the formation of a town. The Bishop of Metlahkahtla, B. C., was recently attacked on the road by six Indians, who had decided to rob him. The bishop, who knew how to handle his fists, knocked two down one after the other, butted another, hit a fourth in the stomach.

The fireworks arranged for by the city authorities of New York, in the celebration of the unveiling of the statue of Liberty and which were postponed to Monday evening, because of unfavorable weather, were on a scale of splendor hitherto seen there. They were furnished by the fire-works company of the city, and practically donated in recognition of the grandeur of the occasion.

A heavily loaded freight train on the Cincinnati, Washington & Baltimore railroad, struck a cow on a bridge at Petersburg, W. Vn., derailing the engine and several cars. The bridge caught fire and gave way, wrecking the engine and 17 cars, 9 being loaded with oil. Train and bridge were completely destroyed, except those were completely destroyed, except those were completely destroyed, except t cars not on the bridge. Loss to the pany $100,000.

A serious smashup occurred Friday morning at Gassett's station, on the Central Vermont road, 17 miles north of Bellows Falls. No. 4, mixed freight and passenger train, on stopping at the station, was run into by an extra freight following, and, lacking a proper flagging, No. 6 freight, leaving at 6 o'clock, ran into the rear of the extra on a bridge, wrecking all three trains and entirely blockading the track. No one seriously injured, but the damage to the rolling stock is large.

A letter from Apla, dated Oct. 15th, says, authentic news has reached Samoa to the effect that on the morning of Sept. 10th over 100 heavy shocks of carthquake occurred on the island of Ninafau, one of the Tonga group, and that from the bottom of the lake, which is 2600 feet deep, a mountain has arisen to a height of 300 feet above its surface. This mountain has burst out in flames, and thrown out hot stones and sand in such quantities as to destroy two-thirds of the coconut trees on the island. The details are given of the horrible burning of eight people in a log cabin near Flat Rock, Knox county, Kentucky. Wm. Poe, a farmer, went away from his home on business, leaving his wife, five young children, and two young ladies of the neighborhood, Misses Alice Carnes and Allie Adams. During the night the house burned, and all the immates perished. The remains were found the next day by the husband on his return. It is not known how the cabin caught fire, but the mother's remains were found clasping those of her baby, and the bed clothing near show that an effort had been made to extinguish the fire. The funeral of Mrs. Cornella M. Stewart, widow of the late dry goods millionaire, A. T. Stewart, took place on Thursday from her mansion on Fifth avenue, New York. No one was admitted to the residence except the relatives and friends of the deceased. The body was placed in a velvet covered casket with silver trimmings and rested on a catafalque in the centre of the west parlor. The floral designs were numerous, most of which were made of amilax, ivy and roses. Bishop Littlejohn and Rev. Arthur Brooks officiated and read a portion of the busial service from the ritual of the Episcopal Church. The funeral cortege took the Thirty-fourth-street ferry. At Hunter's Point a special train took the remains and the friends to Garden City, where the obsequies were held in the cathedral, which was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Stewart.

Thursday, Henry Currier, Simon Morris and Joshus W. Knowles, employés of J. F. Nickerson, grocer, Boston, were in an elevator, and had started to return from the fifth floor, when the machinery broke and the elevator fell to the bottom. The car struck with a terrible crash and was completely wrecked while the three men were taken out crushed and bleeding. Knowles appeared to be the worst injured. Blood was flowing from his ears, nose and mouth. It was evident be was badly injured about the head and probably fractured his skull. There is little hope for his recovery. Currier was injured internally and several riba were fractured. He was also burt about the head. Morris, who is a colored man, sustained a fracture of the base of the spine, and his injuries are of a serious nature.

Very encouraging information is coming from Ireland. There has been an unex-

from Ireland. There has been an unexpected subsidence of disturbances and there are many evidences that the people are devoting themselves more to ordinary business pursuits of life than they have been doing for many years. Many purchases of land are being made under the Ashbourne act and there is an increase of a peaceable and conciliatory disposition on the part of landlords toward tenants. Another good sign is that the country fairs held this fall have been better attended than for a long time and the exhibits more numerous and of a better character than usual. There is an abundance of farm produce and fair prices are received for large quantities of cattle and sheep sent to English markets. Strange as it may appear, there is a genuine business revival in Ireland and this is to be helped along by the government, which is working very hard on the question of supplying the Irish people with the means of more general supplyment.

67,000 yds. of the best goods in this country to select from, and if the whole people could realize what they could save by buying from us all their carpets for the Hall, Stair, Parior, Sitting Room, Chambers, Library, or any other room they want a carpet for, we should never be able to fill their orders. Why, just think of pure all wool carpets at 55c. per yard, or Prime Tapestry Brussels at 75, 80, and 85c., and Body Brussels at 51, 80, and 85c., and Body Brussels at $1,00, $1,10 and $1,25. Velvet Carpets at $1 to $1,50. Now, perhaps you might question the quality but our answer to this would be: our goods come from the Lowell, Bigelow, Roxbury and other standard looms of the country, and we warrant them.

Write for samples, and believe us we can save your fare to Portland any time, and give you the benefit of the largest stock in the country to select from:

Hall Stands, Extension Tables, Mirrors, Easy Chairs, Hair Matresses, Blankets, Comfiters, Pillows, Feathers in every grade.

BATTIS' MODIFIED EXTRACT

First, by sponging the throat with it. Then by applying a bandage wet with Extract, keeping it on as long as required, and covering the wet with several thicknesses of dry cloth, to create warmth. If applied in anticipation of a recurring attack or spanm, it cannot come on. By continued use of the Extract, the attacks may occur just as regular but less intense, and I think in time will cease altogether. With this protection one can lie down and enjoy the quiet sieep that it promotes, and without any fear that disagreeable symptoms may follow.

noncement of a "Short Course in Agricul-ture," commencing in January and occupy-ing twelve weeks, for the benefit of young men already engaged in farming or about commencing, who are not able to take the full course. A capital idea, and there ought to be many young men ready to come forward and take the course. Here is a lesson for dairymen that need no explanation: "Such butter," said a commission merchant, pointing to a number of small pails just received from a wellof small pails just received from a well-known creamery, "will sell anywhere as the very best prices, and hardly remain in the store thirty minutes. That entire lot of forty-nine-pound pails came in this morning, and had not been here ten minutes errone of my customers, knowing the day it usually arrives, was here to take the whole: and I venture the assertion that by to-morrow night he will not have a pound of it left: will have made a clean thirty-six dollar-by the operation and left the people cry-

Prof. W. A. Henry, of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, has issued an an-connectment of a "Short Course in Agricul-

It would seem that the statistical re-porter for Maine to the Department of Agriculture, needs posting up in the dairy business if his reports are to approximate accuracy. In the report on the Condition of Dairying, just issued by the department the representations could hardly have been wider from the facts in the case. Kennebec county is credited "with but few cows and "they are wintered on corn fodder hay and straw, few receiving any grain," and "the season for dairying is only five months." In Androscoggin county it is reported that ensilage forms a large pro-portion of the food of the cows. Winter dairying is becoming popular in Somerse county, and "many factories run the entire year." In Washington county "the cows are mostly Jersey blood." When it is known that Kennebec leads the State in the dairy business, and in the care and fee of her cows, that Androscoggin has but few towns where a silo can be found, that Somerset leads in stock raising rather than dairying, and that only two butter factories have ever been built within her borders and that Washington county has not a hal dozen herds of Jerseys throughout her ter-ritory, one will not be likely to have his confidence in the fidelity of statistical re porters much strengthened. North Washington Agricultural Society. The north-east quarter of Washington county, of which the town of Princeton is a central point, from location is practically cut off from sharing the advantages of par-ticipation with either of the three incorporated agricultural societies of the county There are many thrifty, enterprising farmers in the town embraced in this territory, and they have long felt the need of some organization of a character calculated to in stock, and to advance methods and practical tices connected with their farming operations. This desire at last took shape in the temporary organization of an agricul-tural society, with headquarters at Prince ton. In order to aid in the movement th town purchased a tract of land just in the grounds, and tendered its free use to the society so long as they desire it for cattle show purposes. This is the first instance on record, we believe, where a town ha the town should have no reason to regret the step, for such a society with a welmanaged annual exhibition, will be a stim out all that section in more valuable flocks and herds, and in the greater prosperity o Lewy's Lake, the last of the Grand Lake in before they discharge their waters into the St. Croix river, and contains fifteen acres. A large farmer of the town, Mr. Frederick Mercier, found the lumber for the fence with the arrangement that it should in due time be paid for by the So-clety. The citizens of Princeton and adjoining towns volunteered help for the o ruction of a half mile track, and for the improvement of the grounds to the amount of $500. A track was built which come to the aid of its agriculture in the way mentioned. In no other way did it appear possible to establish the enterprise, and with a small outlay further, will make a very good track for trotting purposes.

The officers of the Society are Oscar a Pike, Pres.; Willis R. Dresser, Secy.; F. Mercier, Sampson Sprague, John Fitch,
Directors. The organization had the courage to offer a list of premiums for their age to offer a list of premiums for their offirst cattle show, held Oct. 19—20, which were paid in full. The amount paid was about $125. There were 75 entries of gatock. The races were hotly contested and for their office of the stock.

At the Town Hall, near by the grounds, was exhibited all the produce, fancy goods, ladies' work, etc. The display of apples was especially fine. Oscar Pike had 29 twarieties, E. Edgerley 14, S. G. Spooner 12, S. K. Seamons 11, G. D. K. Edgerley 6, Ada W. Sprague 5, A. Thornton 6 varieties. Ads w. Sprague 5, A. Thornton 6 varieties. is Also some fine varieties by J. D. Lawler, f. G. M. B. Sprague, and John White. J. M. Heath had some fine looking grapes. There were beets, turnips, carrots, parsnips, onions, cabbages, corn, wheat, peas, etc., in great abundance. Potatoes were shown of every variety raised in this part of the country. Some of these potatoes were country. Some of these potatoes were the largest ever seen. The best lot noticed were four boxes shown by John K. Thistlewood. They were all nearly the same size, wood. They were all nearly the same size, large smooth and handsome.

We shall not attempt to enumerate the exhibit of fancy and ladies' goods, but be content with saying that it was the best part of the show.

The society rightfully feel encouraged over the success of their efforts thus far, rand will ask for an act of incorporation at the coming session of the legislature.

By invitation of this young and active society, the Farmers' Institute for Washington county was held at Princeton, Oct. we was a content of the members. The Secretary of the Board was present, with Dr. Lincoln, the Washington county member, D. B. John.

The subjects discussed were such as were particularly applicable to the locality. There was a good attendance of the leading farmers of that section of the county. In the evening the meeting was held in the church, where a good audience gathered. A choir of singers favored the occasion with appropriate selections well sung. Mr. Brown gave a lecture on the subject of "The Farmers" Garden." He is a good speaker, and beside, is perfectly at home in the business of gardening, and his straightforward, common sense directions for gardening on the farm were well received and highly appreciated.
